PROFILE

17-year veteran of the video game industry with experience in all aspects of the business. Currently an Adjunct Professor at Southern Methodist University with the Guildhall program, Lead Artist at Balanced Media Technology and a freelance artist. Along with my 17 years as being an artist, I have worked alongside PR groups creating assets and production planning (including video editing, photography and web development). Recently I have contributed on various projects that focus in the Virtual and Augmented Reality space.
